"We are poor and have concentrated our forces in our European possessions, leaving the Asiatic and African possessions practically unprotected. We had trusted the safeguarding of Tripoli to international law and to honor. We have been bitterly deceived and can never again trust the word of Italy."

TRIPOLI. Oct. 10.—It is reported that Turks under the command of Munir Pasha are one and a half days journey toward Ghazian. They are said to have opened negotiations with the Italians and British. The army seems to be in a pitiable condition from a lack of water and provisions. The camel trains that were following the army have returned, regarding the situation as hopeless. The Turkish Governor and many officials were sent away yesterday.

The town is in perfect order. The shops are open and looting has ceased.

NAPLES. Oct. 10. - The captain of a German steamer which has just arrived here from Odessa reports that at Rhodes he saw four Turkish vessels of war with steam up and cleared for action.

Il Mattino's account of the bombardment and occupation of Tobruk is interesting. The fort was bombarded with the 12 inch guns of the fleet and after the second volley from the ships marines were landed. They made a rapid advance with fixed bayonets, the bombardment continuing the while. The Italians were quickly under the walls of the fort and out of the range of the Turkish guns. They forced an entrance to the fort and hoisted the Italian flag while the Turks retired and continued firing from the neighboring heights. The Italians, sheltered by the fort, replied with accurate aim until the Turks ceased to fire. The town then capitulated and was occupied at once.

FUSION TICKET NOW COOKING

CONFERENCE OF DEMS., REPS. AND INDS. TO-NIGHT.

Democratic League's Invitation Welcomed by Republican Convention Which Adjourns to Thursday-Bench Degraded, Says Ex-Judge Cohen.

The Republican county convention organized last night in Eldorado Hall, Seventh avenue and Fifty-second street. named a committee of seven to make fusion terms with the Independence League, the Democratic League and the Citizens' Union and adjourned until 4:30 P. M. to-morrow.

The Court of Appeals decision that knocked out the ballot provision of the Levy election law and made fusion easier led the convention to give serious consideration to a letter from Robert Grier Monroe of the Democratic League to Sam S. Koenig, president of the Republican county committee. Mr. Monroe asked if the Republicans wanted to fight Tammany in company with the independents. The convention decided last night that it was ready to talk business. Chairman Hopper of the Independence League also responded gladly to a similar overture from the Democratic League.

The Republican delegates got together in the ballroom of the Eldorado at 9 P. M. There were no fights-not even an argument. By a unanimous vote the temporary organization was made permanent, after which Mr. Mayer recognized Mr. Koenig.

The county president sent to the platform to be read this letter from Robert Grier Monroe:

The campaign committee of the Democratic League of New York county address your committees for the purpose of coin the coming campaign. The overwhelming power exercised during the last year by Tammany Hall and the gross abuse of that power make it quite evident that it is the part of good citizenship to sink party advantage and give all voters who opportunity to express their opposition in an effective manner at the polis. As this involves a non-partisan movement against a condition brought about through Tammany control we have felt that the

"On her arrival here Mrs. Carbonnezu went to the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Not long afterward her husband reached here and as soon as she learned of it she took her jewe'ry and furs and deposited them with Tiffany's and with Revillon's to keep them from her husband. Then she left for Alaska to look after her business and mining claims, and returned in November, 1905. When she went to get her property she was told that the furs and jewiry had been delivered to her husband. She has been trying ever since to find him and recover her property but has failed."

Carbonneau turned up an Philadelphia in September, 1906, when he was arrested at the Bellevue-Stratford for kidnapping his sister-in-law, Agnes Mulrooney. The girl, who was 18 years'old, had been attending a convent at Chestnut Hill, and Carbonneau said he had seized her and took her in his auto because he saw her in the arms of a young man. The young man notified the notice and Carbonneau was
